Skywhales Across Australia
Sun 9 Aug

Wake before dawn and experience something truly extraordinary as Patricia Piccinini's monumental Skywhale and Skywhalepapa rise above the Riverland skyline for a magical sunrise event in Loxton.

Join the community at The Precinct, Loxton Oval on Sunday 9 August, inflating from 5.30am as the beloved hot air balloon sculptures slowly inflate and, weather permitting, take flight across the morning sky. Presented by the National Gallery of Australia, Skywhales Across Australia invites communities to pause, look up and share a moment of wonder, imagination and connection.

Whether soaring freely above the Riverland or tethered on-site, the skywhales promise a breathtaking visual spectacle unlike anything seen before in the region. Audiences will be immersed in the excitement of the early morning launch as the giant sculptures come to life against the sunrise backdrop.

The free community event will feature a Welcome to Country, a special performance of the Skywhales Song by local school choirs, coffee and refreshments available from Little Miss Daisy, and interactive experiences linking visitors to the wider festivities taking place throughout Loxton.

For those wanting to elevate the experience, guests can also enjoy a VIP Breakfast at The Precinct. Overlooking the launch site from exclusive balcony seating, the breakfast includes front-row viewing of the balloon spectacle, a delicious breakfast buffet, tea and coffee, and a relaxed atmosphere to soak in the magic of the morning.

Following the launch, visitors are encouraged to continue the celebration throughout Loxton, with creative activities, arts experiences and community activations unfolding on East Terrace as part of the Arts on Terrace festivities.

Please note: balloon activity is weather dependent. In the event of unsuitable conditions, the launch may be tethered or postponed.
